

17th Annual

Save the date!

Surgery of the Foregut Symposium

February 16-20, 2019

The Ritz-Carlton, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

www.ccfcmecme.org/DDSI-Week

6th Annual

International Congress for Fluorescence Guided Surgery

February 16, 2019

---

Spanish Translation | February 17-20, 2019

Get your CME's and Earn ABS MOC Points

Registration Now Open!

---

Symposium Highlights

The 2019 scientific session will feature a full day presenting the 6th International Conference on Fluorescent Guided Imaging Surgery, under the leadership of Dr. Takeaki Ishizawa from Tokyo, Japan. This is one of the most fascinating and promising developments in the field of surgery.

The second day will be devoted to Foregut Surgical Management. On the 3rd and 4th day, the scientific sessions will concentrate on the most recent advances, controversies and developments in the field of Bariatric and Metabolic Surgery including a full day on Single Anastomotic Procedures.

In addition, and back to popular demand, we will host a fifth day of Live Surgery that will be presented at the David Jagelman Conference Center at the Cleveland Clinic Florida campus in, Weston.

To continue our tradition, we will feature the Robert Hermann MD Annual Lecture that will be delivered by Horacio Asbun, MD, on “Current Trends in Minimally Invasive Pancreatic Surgery”, and the Walter E. Pories MD, Annual Lecture delivered by Michel Gagner, MD on the “Can a PEG for Feeding Purposes, Treat Weight Loss in Severely Obese Subjects? Seriously?”

Endorsed By:

ISFGS
International Society for Fluorescence Guided Surgery

FEDERACIÓN LATINOAMERICANA DE CIRUGÍA

Endorsed by

International Federation for the Surgery of Obesity and Metabolic Disorders

Register Today!