

Innovative Techniques in Bariatric & Metabolic Surgery

May 24th – 25th

Overview

This two days course consists of comprehensive theoretical and practical sessions on Bariatric & Metabolic Surgery and Obesity Medicine. The sessions will help to develop advanced insights on Patient Selection, preparations, Indications, patient Positioning and OR setup. Furthermore, the faculty will highlight some anatomy aspects and Surgical Techniques and will provide useful tips and tricks on complications management. In addition, the content will focus on the Nutritional Diet for Bariatric patients and the difference between the Surgical and Medical reasons for postoperative Bariatric surgery failures.

Time

Start: Day 1, 8:30

End: Day 2, 17:00

Location

Sharjah Surgical Institute
United Arab Emirates

Language

English

Faculty

Dr. Karl Miller

MD, FACS, FASMBS

Associate Professor of Surgery – CMO

Dr. Nadia Ahmed

Obesity Medicine, MD

Kiram Tbayli

Clinical Dietician

Registration

For additional information please contact your Ethicon representative. IFSO Members are entitled to 10 % reduced registration fees.

Program Overview

Day 1

- Welcome & Introduction
- Technical aspects & Anastomotic techniques in LGP (Roux En-Y GB Vs. OA GB)
- Handling Complications in Bariatric Surgery
- Pre-operative expectations and post-operative nutritional Diet for Bariatric Patients.
- Animal Lab: Stapling & Anastomosis
- Closing & Discussion

Day 2

- Welcome & Introduction
- The Science of Obesity: What should be known about Obesity?
- Revision surgery & preventing complications.
- Overview on Failure in Bariatric Surgery
- Surgical Vs. Medical Reasons of Bariatric Surgery Failure
- Animal Lab : Stapling & Anastomosis
- Closing & Discussion

Faysal Abdelmajid

Professional Education Manager, Middle East

Bariatric, Oncology & Cardiovascular

M +971 55 24 22 149

fabelma@its.jnj.com